

John Visser, Chair, Special Study Group on IMT-2000 and Beyond

John Visser earned a Bachelor of Applied Science in Electrical Engineering from the University of British Columbia in Vancouver, Canada in 1973. He has been involved in key network Standards, Systems Engineering, Planning, Product Design, and Product Line Management support for many years. He has an extensive background in SS7, ISDN and Intelligent Networks in fixed and mobile networks. He is currently Senior Manager, International Network Standards, at Nortel Networks, and is based in Ottawa, Canada. In addition to involvement in both 3GPP and 3GPP2, he is very active in third generation International Mobile Telecommunications (IMT-2000) and beyond in ITU-T, including work on future telecommunications core network infrastructure, inter-system mobility management, harmonization and convergence. John was appointed Chairman of the ITU-T Special Study Group on "IMT-2000 and Beyond" in October 2000. He is a Registered Professional Engineer in the Province of Ontario and a member of IEEE.