

Abstract

1.2.1 ITU-T: IMT-2000 Core Network Activities (John Visser, ITU-T)

This presentation will provide an overview of the ITU-T Special Study Group on “IMT-2000 and Beyond.” It will provide a brief background to the formation and work of this Study Group, summarize the results that have been achieved to date, and then concentrate on the content and timetables of the current work and what it is intended to deliver. Finally, some views on the future content and direction of this work will be provided.
