

Biography of Mrs Mele Siauciuliene, Chief specialist, Communications Regulatory Authority, Lithuania

Mrs Mele Siauciuliene was awarded the Master degree in Radio communication and radio broadcasting by The Bonch-Bruевич Saint-Petersburg State University of Telecommunications in 1979.

Since 1971 Mrs. Siauciuliene worked as engineer in Lithuanian radio and television centre, as lecturer at Vilnius Polytechnic school, as chief specialist in Ministry of Communications and Informatics, Ministry of Transport and Communications, and etc.

In January 2003 Mrs Siauciuliene joined the Communications Regulatory Authority (RRT) as a Chief Specialist of Strategic Planning Division.

For four years she has been working within coordination the strategy of RRT in the communications market regulation domain and dealing with different issues of regulation and regulatory policy, development of information society and etc.