

Bibliography

Eng. Sami H. O. Salih, graduate from Sudan University of Science Technology (SUST), department of electronics engineering (Oct. 2003). From that date he work on Elex department as teacher assistant, join KushIT as computer engineering, finishing military services and he join NTC (Telecom. Regulatory) as Telecom. Engineer since June 2005. He hold MSc. in Telecommunication

Engineering, SUST (Feb. 2007), then his position on SUST is promote to Lecturer staff.

During his career he participates in ITU/ICT Geneva, installing wireless network on the SENATE building in Burundi as well as many other Networks on different corporations. he become familiar with communication and computer networks such as LAN, IEEE, GSM, and 3G especially on wired and wireless network performance and QoS testing, he do some courses related on Network performance (Mobile Drive Test, Protocol Analyzer, Wifi/WiMax Planning and Air Performance) and IT (Linux, Windows Servers and Networks).

Now I am PhD Student on SUST, with thesis title “Software Radio Approached for WiMAX Access Design”.