

CURRICULUM VITEA NATAŠA GOSPIĆ

I received the BSc and MSc. degree from the Faculty of Electrical Engineering and PhD degree from the Faculty of Transport and Traffic Engineering, University of Belgrade.

Most important job assignment:

- Assistant General Director of Community of Yugoslav PTT (1990- Jun 2000),
- General Manager of Mobile operator MONET -Montenegro (Jun 2000-March 2002),
- Advisor to General Manager of Telecom Srpske , B&H (March 2002-July 2004),
- Professor on University Belgrade, University Novi Sad and University of Banja Luka, BiH,

I was engaged by ITU-D as a speaker in more then 40 ITU Regional Forum, Seminars and Workshops, held in developing countries. I was the editor of the ITU-D Handbook “New technologies and new services”. I used to be vice chairperson of SG 2 ITU-D, Rapportuer for Q 18/2 dealing with “Smooth transition from the existing mobile networks to IMT-2000 for developing countries” and chairperson of ITU Working Group on Gender Issues.

The scope of my recent work for telecom operator was: strategy and policy for mobile networks and service development, business policy, business models and implementation of NGN projects, Universal Service for Serbia-existing situation, needs and recommendation for solutions.

Presently, I teach in Traffic and Transport Faculty-University Belgrade, Technical Science Faculty-University Novi Sad and Faculty of Electrical Engineering- University Banja Luka. I am the author of four books and more then 100 scientific and expert papers.