

Situational Network resource management and data transmission

The report considers existing management mechanisms and their weak points, requirements to information exchange mechanism in situational network and algorithm for the operation of this mechanism.