Mr. Ashim Karmacharya (Alumni of Youth Forum Asia 2004) recently graduated from Kathmandu University, Nepal. He is currently working as an electrical and electronics engineer.

Mr. Karmacharya was doing his undergraduate when he learnt about ITU-Telecom Youth Forum from his university. He was interested in the emerging information age as well as its potential benefits. The ITU-Telecom Youth Forum, without any doubt, offered an opportunity to share ideas with many important people in ICTs field. He met a lot of high-level management people in telecommunication area in Youth Forum Asia 2004 and gained so much from everyone presented.

Due to the influence from the Forum on him, at present, Mr. Karmacharya and his colleagues are doing a research project to find out the safe method of bridging the digital gap, and meanwhile, contribute to the ICTs development. “It would be really great if other ITU members would contribute, too.” Said Mr. Karmacharya.
