

Mário Baumgarten

General Consultant for Technologies at Siemens Information and Communications Mobile where he is in charge of the strategic planning of the company. Besides of this duty he is also the Chairman of the UMTS Forum in Latin America, co-operating with the globalisation efforts of ITU's third generation, also called IMT-2000.

Electronic Engineer graduated at the Mauá Institute of Technology in 1975, he built his technical knowledge in the fields of Voice and Data networks, Access Networks, Intelligent Networks, second and third generation mobile systems, as well as in many correlating areas. He overtook several responsibilities during his career including Sales, Projects, Technical Assistance, Engineering as well as the overall Strategic Planning at Siemens in Brazil and in Germany.