

Dr. Anthony Giannoumis

Dr. Anthony is a motivational speaker, workshop facilitator, and course instructor on inclusive leadership. His keynotes showcase his signature methodology - The Sins and Wins of Inclusive Leadership.

He is American by birth, Norwegian by choice, and the world's only computer programmer turned opera singer turned professor turned comedian turned entrepreneur and co-founder of Inclusive Creation. He is the author of The Sins and Wins of Inclusive Leadership, the co-creator of the Inclusion Game and the mind behind the 4 Fundamental Principles of Universal Design. He is a lifetime diversity and inclusion advocate, a beloved mentor and reverse mentor, and the winner of numerous awards, including from the United Nations, for his inclusive innovations.

He has spoken in over 32 countries and is the author of over 50 scientific articles. He is the founder of the EQUALS-EU network for gender-inclusive innovation, which represents over 24 countries. He has received over 13 million euros worth of research and innovation grants, and as you can imagine, he was the last picked for gym class.