

Biography

Tamara Dancheva, Senior Manager, International Relations, GSMA

For over a decade, Ms Tamara Dancheva has worked in various roles in global organizations, with a primary focus on gender equality, human rights and international relations. In her current role as Senior Manager, International Relations within the External Affairs and Industry Purpose department at the GSMA, she is responsible for leading on GSMA's strategy in the international digital gender inclusion space. She also leads on GSMA's partnerships with UN Women, the EQUALS Global Partnership for Gender Equality in the Digital Age, the Generation Equality Innovation and Technology Action Coalition and the Commonwealth Businesswomen's Network among others. Ms Dancheva is currently a Co-Chair of the EQUALS Skills Coalition, a Co-Chair of the Women in STEM Working Group under the W20 Brazil Presidency and the Head of the European Union Delegation to the W20 Engagement Group of G20. Additionally, Ms Dancheva has extensive experience in political party systems and democracy stemming from a previous role as Head of the Human Rights Programme for Liberal International. She holds a Bachelor's Degree in International Business from Rockhurst University (Kansas City, MO, USA) and a Master's Degree in Politics and Government in the European Union from the London School of Economics (London, UK).