

Vanessa Copetti Cravo

Vanessa Copetti Cravo is a civil servant working for the Brazilian National Telecommunication Agency (Anatel) since 2005, with a legal background (J.D. and LL.M.) and a Ph.D. at the International Strategic Studies Program at the Federal University of Rio Grande do Sul, with a research focus on cybersecurity.

She serves as one of Anatel's focal points for cybersecurity, she is a member of the Anatel Cybersecurity Technical Group (GT-Ciber), and she has been a Brazilian delegate to several International Telecommunication Union (ITU) meetings and conferences (including the past four World Telecommunication Development Conferences - WTDC and the last Plenipotentiary Conference), as well as the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OCDE) meetings and Forums, always following cybersecurity related-issues.

Mrs. Cravo has been following and actively contributing to Study Question 3/2 (former Study Question 22) since 2009 and has been vice-rapporteur for the 2010-2014 cycle. She also served twice as Chair of the Correspondence Group created within Question 3/2 to improve the Global Cybersecurity Index (GCI) questionnaire. She currently serves as Study Question 3/2 Co-Rapporteur.
