8 Practical Information

8.1 Sèvres, Paris, France

Paris, France's capital, is a major European city and a global center for art, fashion, gastronomy and culture. Its 19th-century cityscape is crisscrossed by wide boulevards and the River Seine. Beyond such landmarks as the Eiffel Tower and the 12th-century, Gothic Notre-Dame cathedral, the city is known for its cafe culture and designer boutiques along the Rue du Faubourg Saint-Honoré.

8.2 Climate

Paris in France has a temperate, oceanic climate with warm summers and cold winters. There is a marked difference between seasons, but extreme hot or cold temperatures are rare.

Rainfall is moderate and steady year-round. The city is known for its sudden showers, although its annual average rainfall is low compared with other regions in France.

Monthly average values of the temperature and precipitation in Paris are given in the table below:

|                             | June     |
|-----------------------------|----------|
| Average Max Temperature     | 23 °C    |
| Average Minimum Temperature | 14 °C    |
| Sunshine hours              | 16 hours |
| Average Precipitation       | 42 mm    |

8.3 Electricity and Voltage

France uses 2 sizes of electrical outlets: type C (two round plugs) and type E (two round plugs with a male ground plug). All power sockets in France provide a voltage of 230 V with an electrical current frequency of 50 Hz.

Adaptors will be made available by the BIPM in the meeting room for use at the BIPM Headquarters.

8.4 Language

French

8.5 Time Zone

UTC +2 (summertime).
