

Elizabeth Emanuel

Elizabeth Emanuel is the Programme Director/consultant with Vision 2030 Jamaica Secretariat at the Planning Institute of Jamaica. She was part of a small team that led the development of the country's first long term national development Plan, known as Vision 2030 Jamaica - and is now leads a team that is monitoring and evaluating the implementation of the Plan. She has over eighteen years of development experience, with specific emphasis on development planning, environmental management, disaster risk reduction, catastrophe risk insurance, environmental education, training and communication, sustainable development planning, policy development, energy management, green economy, and project management. She has worked extensively with development partners such as the World Bank/IFC, UN-ECLAC, UNEP, UNDP, Nature Conservancy and GEF-IWCAM among others. She also has experience working a range of regional and international organizations and projects such as CCRIF SPC (formerly the Caribbean Catastrophe Risk Insurance Facility), IDB/UNEP Caribbean Regional Wastewater Programme, Nile Basin Trust Fund, and the Cooperation for International Waters in Africa (CIWA). In the Caribbean she has worked for a range of Governments – chief among these being Jamaica, The Bahamas, Montserrat, Grenada, Saint Lucia, Guyana, Suriname and Aruba, among others. Her work with the private sector has focused on putting in place environmental management systems. She holds a BSc in Economics and Mathematics an MSc in Development (with emphasis on Environmental & Health Economics) and post graduate diplomas in communications, public sector management, policy analysis and strategic planning. She also holds certification in project management, curriculum development, monitoring and evaluation, strategic environmental assessment and public procurement among others. She also lectures at the University of the West Indies.