

Anamaris Solórzano Chacón

General Deputy Director

Joven Club de Computación y Electrónica

Anamaris Solórzano Chacón was born on 24 December, 1986 in Nueva Gerona, Isla de la Juventud, Cuba. Graduated from the University of Havana in 2009 in Social Communication and later, in 2014, Postgraduate in Institutional Communication.

She has participated as speaker in different national and international events related to Information and Communication Technologies, and its inclusion on different sectors of society. has performed several different roles within Joven Club de Computación y Electrónica, reaching the position of General Deputy Director of the entity from 2017 to the present.