

Biography

Sara Mohammed Abd alrahim, Senior Software Engineer at Sudan Telecommunications and Post Regulatory Authority (TPRA)

Sara studied Computer Systems and Networks at Sudan University of Science and Technology (2007-2011) and graduated with first Class, in 2016 she achieved her Master degree in Computer Science, from the same University.

her passion in programming and Software Development led her to join (TPRA) as a full stack developer in September 2013, and she developed many Web Based Systems and Mobile Applications, aligned with that she was working in different areas of technologies such as: (Linux and open Sources, Virtualizations, and Security ...)

Sara has believed that the future world will be shaped by: AI, Big data and IoT, Her current interests are in digging in these areas