

Dr. Nibal Idlebi, Chief of Innovation Section at ESCWA

- Dr. Nibal Idlebi is a senior expert in Innovation, Knowledge Society and ICT for Development. She is supervising the preparation of studies and reports on technology for Development, and the organization of high level expert meetings and workshops related to innovation for building knowledge economy in the Arab region. She also provides advisory services in these areas, and she is a jury member in several innovation, entrepreneurship and digital content awards. Dr. Idlebi has long experience in the development of information society and knowledge society. She led regional initiatives in the Arab region on Cyber Legislation, Digital Arabic content and regional profiling of Information Society; and she is active member in several UN working groups and Arab working groups.
- Dr. Idlebi was the Deputy Minister at the Ministry of Communications and Technology (MCT) in Syria, and she also worked in the Academia for more than 10 years.