

Biography

Eng. Mustafa Al MAHDI, ITU Arab Regional Office

Mustafa graduated with the highest honors B.sc in Telecommunication and Control Engineering and merit Master Degree in Telecommunications Management in 2005 and 2009 respectively. He is currently doing a PhD in Management of Technology at Nile University-Egypt.

In August 2013, he joined the ITU in the Arab regional Office and he is responsible for Arab Least Developing Countries enabling environment programme, ICT & Climate Change, Smart and Sustainable Cities, IoT, E-waste, Emergency Telecommunication, Use of ICTs for Disaster Risk Reduction, ITU Academy and the regional coordinator for capacity building programmes and ITU Arab CoEs Network.

His current research interests are in the broad areas of Technology Management of 5G and IoT wireless and mobile technologies, green environment (EMF, E-Waste, Energy), and intelligent wireless solutions for smart cities including smart water management.