

Aftab Siddiqui joined the Internet Society (ISOC) as a Technical Engagement Manager in November 2016.

Prior to joining ISOC, Aftab worked as Chief Technologist for Australian network integrator. He has a strong technical and operational background and has been a key contributor to the global, regional, and local technical policy development. He has been an active participant in SANOG, APNIC/APRICOT and other national NOGs for many years.

Aftab is also the Chair of ICANN's Address Support Organization – Address Council and has been attending ICANN meetings and engaging with the community. He is the technical resource for the ISOC APAC bureau and a member of the Internet Technology Office, focusing on operational issues related to internet.