

Aquiles Almansi

Aquiles Almansi, a Lead Financial Sector Specialist, joined the World Bank in 2002. He has led several joint IMF-World Bank Financial Sector Assessment missions and since 2009 has conducted crisis simulation exercises for financial sector authorities in Albania, Armenia, Cambodia, Croatia, El Salvador, Guatemala, Indonesia, Kyrgyz Republic, Macedonia, Mexico, Montenegro, Morocco, Mozambique, Paraguay, Romania, and Uganda, as well as multi-jurisdiction exercises in Central America, the Western Balkans, and East Asia. Before joining the World Bank Aquiles served as a Member of the Board at the Central Bank of Argentina, held senior positions at Citigroup Asset Management Argentina, INVESCO Asset Management Latin America, BNP-Paribas New York, and also worked as a consultant for Citibank's Latin America Training Center, Merrill Lynch, and several Argentine banks. He has lectured in Economics and Finance at the Universities of Chicago and Michigan-Ann Arbor in the US, and UCEMA, San Andres, and Di Tella in Argentina. He holds a Ph.D. in Economics from the University of Chicago.