

Biography

Hani Khalaf is a Regional Sales Manager for Internet of Things Solutions in the Digital Transformation Group at Cisco, a group that helps customers in the Middle East and Gulf in the Digitization of their business. He believes in the Internet of Things (IoT) being a key disruptive technology and is very passionate about helping customers in the Digitization journey. He has over 21 years of experience in the field of telecommunications, networking, public safety and Internet of Things technology. Prior to joining Cisco, he held several positions in Canada working on critical public safety systems for government agencies. He holds a B.S. degree in Electrical Engineering from UoJ, Amman, Jordan. He can be contacted at hkhalaf@cisco.com

