

Abstract

- Combining technical network management data, to create strongly anonymous data samples in a safe and controlled way, in one side, and Cloud data services, in other side, can help on country's development issues, as well as real business opportunities. Use cases from Ivory Coast and Senegal will be studied.