

Kenji Kuramochi

(he/him/his)

Kenji is an Advisor at the International Office of the National Telecommunications Commission (CONATEL), regulatory authority of Paraguay, and, recently, he has been designated Advisor for Paraguay's Councilor to the ITU.

He has over 25 years of experience in the telecommunications sector.

In the regulatory authority he has worked in the radiocommunications, international affairs and telecommunications services sectors. Previously he was working at the public fixed telephone operator in planning switching centers.

At the ITU, he has coordinated Paraguay's position to ITU Governance (Plenipotentiary Conference and Council), the Radiocommunications Sector (ITU-R) and the Development Sector (ITU-D). He has been a delegate for PP-22, PP-18, PP-14, PP-06 (DHoD), WRC-19 (DHoD), WRC-15, WRC-07 (DHoD), WTDC-22, WTDC-17, WTDC-14, WTDC-06 (DHoD).

He also attends the Inter-American Telecommunication Commission (CITEL), the International Telecommunications Satellite Organization (ITSO), and Mercado Común del Sur (MERCOSUR) meetings.

He is the former Vice-Chair of PPC.II's Working Group on CITEL Preparations for WRC-23.

He is the Alternate Coordinator for Paraguay to the Sub-Working Group N° 1 "Communications" of MERCOSUR.

He has a degree in electronic engineering from Universidad Nacional de Asunción.

He is fluent in Spanish.