

Securing the Future of Automotive

Presentation Abstract

With the rapidly increasing amount of designs using Ethernet for communication in cars, the need for security is increasing. Compared to the first generation of Ethernet in cars, the upcoming architectures have much more complex use cases. Ethernet is now entering ADAS domains in the car where the need for safe and secure communication is paramount. This presentation will talk about the mechanisms required to address these needs.