

Her Excellency, the Right Honourable Salima Monorma Bah

Minister of Communication, Technology and Innovation. Republic of Sierra Leone

Salima Monorma Bah is a Masters of Law graduate from Columbia Law School who earlier this year was appointed as the youngest ever cabinet minister in the Republic of Sierra Leone leading the newly established Ministry of Communication, Technology and Innovation. Ms. Bah is most passionate about the potential of technology and innovation to accelerate the national development of developing countries and has experience leading the design, development and implementation of such programs as the Head of Project Coordination at the Directorate of Science, Technology and Innovation in Sierra Leone.